FACEBOOK LAUNCH KIT

Built and ready to go for Monkey Joe's

The birthday ads, the 50% off ads, the retargeting, and the audiences. Written, structured, and wired to your codes. Say go and this is live within a week.

Prepared by Jess, WILBA · Pointe Orlando and Winter Park · ready to deploy

WHAT THIS IS

A campaign you can switch on, not a plan to think about Everything below is deployment ready. The ad copy is written, the audiences are specified so they build straight into Ads Manager, and every ad carries the tracking that ties a redemption back to Facebook in GHL. We proved that attribution in the pilot, so nothing here is theory.

Three campaigns. Real copy. Real audiences. All that's missing is the word go.

1 · THE AUDIENCES

Who we put this in front of

AUDIENCE	TYPE	DEFINITION
Parents near the store	Cold	15 mile radius of each location (Pointe Orlando: International Drive. Winter Park: Lake Howell Rd). Ages 25 to 45. Parents of toddlers through early school age. Interests: indoor play, trampoline parks, family attractions, kids birthday parties, Orlando family activities. Run as a separate ad set per store.

Birthday parents	Cold	Same radius and ages, narrowed to parents of 2 to 10 year olds, layered with event and shopping behaviours. Feeds the birthday campaign.
Website visitors	Warm	Everyone who hit the site or an offer page in the last 180 days (Meta Pixel).
Engagers	Warm	Anyone who watched 25% of a video or engaged with the Facebook or Instagram page in the last 365 days.
Your list	Warm	The GHL opted in list plus the wider database, uploaded as a Custom Audience (hashed).
Past redeemers	Warm	Everyone who has already redeemed a code, uploaded as a Custom Audience. The gold list.
Lookalikes	Cold, phase 2	1% to 3% lookalike of the redeemers and of your customer list. Scale what already works.

Warm audiences power the retargeting campaign. Cold audiences feed the two top of funnel offers.

5 · CREATIVE DIRECTION

What the visuals should be

- Use your real footage. The play floor, kids on the slides, a party room set up, a genuine birthday moment. Real beats stock every time for a local venue.
- Reels first. Short vertical video (9 by 16) for Feed, Stories and Reels, plus a couple of simple square offer cards.
- Hook in two seconds. Open on the action (a kid mid slide), not a logo.
- Offer on screen. "50% off" or "$25 off parties" overlaid clearly, with the same wording as the ad copy.
- Refresh every two to three weeks so it never goes stale.

I can mock up concept visuals if useful, but the strongest creative uses Monkey Joe's own photos and video of the real space.

How it's wired

SETTING	HOW IT'S BUILT
Structure	Three campaigns: 50% off prospecting, Birthday prospecting, Retargeting. Each split into a Pointe Orlando and a Winter Park ad set.
Objective	Leads, optimised toward the offer and party form completions.
Placements	Advantage+ across Facebook and Instagram feed, Stories and Reels.
Budget	$750 per store per month. $300 to 50% off, $200 to birthdays, $250 to retargeting.
Tracking	Meta Pixel and Conversions API on the offer, redemption and party pages. UTM's on every ad (source facebook, medium paid_social, campaign named by offer and store) so each redemption ties back in GHL.
Offers	50% off admission and the $25 off party code (BDAY25), live and redeemable.

What it takes to switch on

- Confirm the Pixel and Conversions API are firing on the offer, redemption and party pages
- Build the seven audiences above, upload the list and redeemer files
- Load the ad copy and creative into the three campaigns, split by store
- Set UTM's so GHL attributes every redemption to Facebook
- Confirm the 50% off and BDAY25 codes are live
- One tracking test end to end, then switch on

This is built. Give me the word and the two levers that have never run, retargeting and parties, are live within a week.
